CATHEDRAL, "COMÉDIE" AND "SAINTE-CROIX" DISTRICTS

The birthplace of the city, where you can stroll in the footprints of the Graoully and wander through secret gardens and cobbled streets.

DON'T MISS:

METZ CATHEDRAL (1220-1552)

One of the tallest Gothic buildings in Europe, with 6,500 m² of stained glass windows dating from the 13th to the 21st century created by famous artists (Chagall, Kimsooja, etc.)

THE "OPÉRA-THÉÂTRE" OPERA HOUSE AND THEATRE - METZ EUROMETROPOLE (1738-1752)

The oldest in France still in operation.

"TEMPLE NEUF" PROTESTANT CHURCH (1901-1904)

Built in the neo-Romanesque style, it sparkles in the River Moselle like a fairytale castle.

OUTRE-SEILLE AND SAINT-LOUIS DISTRICTS

The heart of the medieval town, where money changers and craftsmen worked, where precious fabrics and Moselle wines* were traded and where the mystery plays took place.

DON'T MISS:

PLACE SAINT-LOUIS (13th-14th centuries)

A hint of Tuscany in the shadow of medieval arcades.

SAINT-MAXIMIN'S CHURCH (12th-15th centuries)

with stained glass windows by Cocteau.

"LA PORTE DES ALLEMANDS" THE GERMANS' GATE (13th-15th centuries)

A remarkable little fortified castle crossing the River Seille.

IMPERIAL DISTRICT AMPHITHEATER DISTRICT

Near Metz station, three times voted the most beautiful station in France, the Nouvelle Ville (New Town) emerges on one side in a profusion of styles and colours, an exceptional illustration of late 19th-century German town planning, and on the other side, the Amphitheatre district, around the Centre Pompidou-Metz, home to some of the greatest names in contemporary architecture.

IF YOU HAD TO CHOOSE THREE SITES... (but there is much more to see):

CENTRE POMPIDOU-METZ (2010)

A place of discovery where you can contemplate, explore and share in the diversity of the expression of modern and contemporary creation. centrepompidou-metz.fr/en

RAILWAY STATION (1905 - 1908)

A magnificent neo-Romanesque building with an abundance of symbols and exceptional sculpted features.

A CHANCE TO RELAX, EXPLORE AND SAVOUR

Between the River Moselle and the River Seille, between vineyards and Mirabelle plums, Metz Eurometropole is full of surprises and wonder. From fortifications to lakes, French-style botanical gardens, English-style gardens or exotic gardens, whether you prefer golf, walking or fitness trails, whether by boat, bike or on foot, beauty and creativity are all part of the equation!

Follow the Moselle wine route*, cruise along the banks of the River Moselle on the V50 cycle route, sail on the canals, bathe in the natural waters, thrill to the performances of artists in the fields or vineyards, enjoy a picnic in a park, marvel at the old wine-growing villages with their steep streets, medieval fortified churches, the exceptionally well-preserved Roman aqueduct that once supplied Metz with water, etc.

Inspire others by posting your most beautiful, famous, original or romantic views of the destination.
